

Dearly beloved,

Today, as I stand before you, my heart is filled with gratitude and hope. Together, we have walked a path of faith, shared countless memories, and woven a tapestry of love that binds us forever. Though the time has come for me to bid farewell, please know that this is not goodbye--it is an invitation to a new chapter, a hopeful beginning rooted in love and redemption.

We have been through seasons of joy and challenges, always finding strength in our unity and in the boundless grace that guides us. It is in those moments of difficult trials that I witnessed the true spirit and resilience of this congregation, where hope was never lost. I am immensely proud of all that we have achieved together.

As we part ways, I encourage you to continue lighting the way for others. Let our community remain a beacon of hope, reaching out to those who yearn for peace and redemption. My journey may lead me elsewhere, but your faith and love will forever remain in my heart.

May you be blessed with strength, love, and the ever-present hope that comes from knowing you are deeply valued and cherished. Thank you for the beautiful journey, and may God guide you on your path.

With love and gratitude,
