

Dear [Boss's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I am writing to formally announce my decision to resign from my position at [Company Name], effective [Last Working Day]. This decision was not made lightly, as my experience here has been both rewarding and enriching.

Over the past [duration], I have had the privilege to work alongside an incredible team and to learn and grow within this esteemed organization. However, I have recently felt a compelling call to pursue entrepreneurial ventures that have long been a vision and passion of mine.

This new path, while challenging, offers opportunities to innovate and push the boundaries of what is possible in [industry/sector]. I am eager to take the leap into this entrepreneurial journey, driven by ambition and the desire to create something impactful.

I am committed to ensuring a smooth transition and will do everything I can to hand over my responsibilities effectively. I would like to express my deepest gratitude for the support and mentorship I've received during my time here.

Thank you once again for the incredible opportunities.

Warm regards,

[Your Name]
