

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Thank you for gathering here today. I stand before you with a mix of emotions to announce my decision to resign from my position at this esteemed institution. It has been an incredible journey, and I am deeply grateful for the opportunity to have been part of this academic family. Working alongside such talented and dedicated colleagues has been a true honor. Together, we have nurtured ambitions and fostered a love for learning in our students. Your passion and commitment to education have inspired me every day.

To my students, past and present, you have been the heart of this journey. Watching you grow and succeed has been the most rewarding part of my career. I am proud of each of you and wish you all the success in your futures.

This decision was not easy, but it is time for me to embark on a new chapter in my life. While I may be leaving my current role, my support for this community will continue. I look forward to witnessing the amazing achievements that lie ahead for this university.

Thank you for the memories, the friendship, and the inspiration. I am forever grateful for the experiences we have shared.

With heartfelt gratitude,
