

Ladies and gentlemen, brothers and sisters,

What an incredible day this is! I stand before you overflowing with joy and gratitude. Today marks a new chapter in my life, and I want to share a bit of my journey with you.

I grew up hearing about faith, but it wasn't until recently that I truly felt it in my heart. It was as if a light switched on, illuminating every corner of my life. I began to see the beauty and purpose in everything around me, and, most importantly, I found peace.

Today, as I prepare to be baptized, I feel surrounded by a community that supports and loves me. I am overwhelmed by the unwavering grace I've found in God's presence, and it fills me with hope and excitement for the future.

Thank you to everyone who has walked with me on this path--the friends, family, and mentors who have guided me. Your encouragement and love mean the world to me.

As I take this step, I commit to living a life that reflects the love and joy I have found in my faith. Thank you all for celebrating this joyous moment with me. Here's to new beginnings and a lifetime of spiritual growth.

Thank you!
