

Hey love,
So, I've been thinking... We've shared laughs, countless pizza slices, and let's not forget binge-watching all those shows. You're my favorite human, and honestly, life's just better with you in it.
Now, I know it's usually the guy doing the grand gestures, but let's switch things up a bit. What do you say we make this official? Will you marry me and be my partner in crime for life?
Love you to the moon and back!
