

Beneath the whispering stars tonight,
In this moment, purely right,
With a heart both brave and true,
I've composed these words for you.
As the moonlight gently dances,
Capturing our stolen glances,
In this world where dreams ignite,
Will you join my endless night?
From every dawn till twilight's end,
Together, love, our souls we'll blend.
In your eyes, I see my way,
In your arms, I wish to stay.
Here, I kneel on time's sweet thread,
A future shared in love ahead.
With this ring, a circle whole,
Will you be my heart, my soul?
In this garden of the divine,
Will forever you be mine?
