

Hello everyone!

Thank you all for gathering here today. We're thrilled to celebrate a love story that's not just about two people, but three, if you count our fur baby, Max!

We knew our lives became infinitely better the moment we met, and Max's little paws just made it even more complete. It's a package deal! So, standing here with joyous hearts and a nervous wagging tail, we ask: Will you continue this incredible journey with us, complete with movie nights, Sunday brunches, and yes, occasional puppy antics? Let's build a life full of laughter, love, and lots of dog treats!

Here's to love, laughter, and happily ever after, with a cute bark to seal the deal. Thank you!
