

Ladies and gentlemen of the panel,

Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to present my appeal today. I stand before you to address the recent accusations of plagiarism that have been levied against my work. I want to express my sincere regret for any confusion or oversight that may have contributed to this situation.

Firstly, I wish to assure you that my intention was never to misrepresent someone else's work as my own. It appears that during the process of research and compilation, proper citations were not consistently maintained, leading to this misunderstanding. I take full responsibility for this oversight and am committed to rectifying the issue.

To resolve this, I propose the following steps:

1. A thorough review and revision of the work in question to ensure all sources are accurately and appropriately cited.

2. Attendance at workshops or seminars on academic integrity and effective citation techniques, to ensure that I am fully equipped with the necessary skills to avoid such missteps in the future.

3. Engaging in direct communication with the parties whose work was inadequately cited, to offer my apologies and correct the oversight.

My hope is that through these actions, I can demonstrate my commitment to academic integrity and my willingness to learn and grow from this experience. I am dedicated to upholding the values of honesty and transparency in all my future endeavors.

Thank you for considering my appeal with an open mind. I am eager to work collaboratively towards a constructive resolution.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
