

Certainly! Here's a simple example:

---

**Welcome Speech for High School Orientation****

Good morning, everyone!

My name is [Your Name], and I am thrilled to welcome all of you to [High School Name]. As we gather here today, we're not just marking the start of another school year; we're beginning a journey of growth, learning, and leadership.

High school is an incredible time to explore and develop your unique talents and passions. It's a time to connect with others, challenge yourself, and discover the leaders within you. Remember, leadership isn't just about holding positions or having titles. It's about taking initiative, being respectful, supporting your peers, and striving for excellence in all that you do.

This year, I encourage each of you to get involved--whether it's joining a club, participating in sports, or volunteering. These experiences will help you build skills that will last a lifetime, and they'll also create friendships and memories you'll cherish.

As you navigate the ups and downs of high school, know that you have the support of your teachers, counselors, and fellow students. Don't hesitate to reach out for guidance or to lend a helping hand to someone in need.

Remember, every day is a chance to make a difference, to learn, and to lead. Let's make this year a remarkable one. Welcome to [High School Name], and I can't wait to see all the amazing things you will achieve. Thank you!