

Good evening, everyone!

We are absolutely thrilled to have all of you here tonight. As parents, your support and enthusiasm fuel our journey forward, and we couldn't be more excited to share this groundbreaking year with you.

Today's world is full of incredible opportunities, and together, we're not just keeping pace but setting new standards. Your children are at the heart of a future that's brimming with innovation and endless possibilities.

Let's dive into this new chapter with energy and excitement, knowing that we are creating an environment that encourages growth, curiosity, and success.

Thank you for being our partners in this exciting adventure. Let's make this year unforgettable!

Welcome, and let's get started!