

Ladies and gentlemen,

Welcome to an exciting new chapter of your life! I am thrilled to see so many bright and eager faces here today. As international students, you have taken a bold step by choosing to study in a new country, and that decision speaks volumes about your courage, determination, and ambition. Starting this journey might feel challenging, but remember, you are not alone. Each of you brings unique experiences and perspectives that enrich our diversity, making our community vibrant and dynamic.

Embrace this opportunity to learn not only from your courses but from each other. Forge friendships that will last a lifetime, and take every chance to grow both personally and professionally. Remember, every challenge you face is a stepping stone to success.

Believe in yourself, because we believe in you. This is your time to shine, to explore your potential, and to make a difference. The world awaits your brilliance, and we can't wait to see all that you will achieve.

Welcome to an incredible journey ahead--welcome to our family!

Thank you.
