Dear [Neighbor's Name],

I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to touch base with you about something that's been on my mind. I've noticed lately that there's been a bit of noise coming from your property, and I figured it might help to chat about it.

I completely understand that life can get lively, and everyone deserves to enjoy their home to the fullest! At times, though, the noise, particularly [mention specific times or type of noise if possible], has been a little challenging for my household.

I'd appreciate any adjustments that could be made, if possible. I totally get that this might not be easy or may not have been something you were aware of. If there's anything I can do on my end to help accommodate, please let me know.

Thanks so much for your understanding and consideration. I'm more than willing to chat about this at your convenience. Having great neighbors like you truly means a lot to me.

Warm regards,

[Your Name]
