

Ladies and gentlemen, thank you for gathering here today to discuss our project proposal. I understand there may be questions and I'd like to provide some clarity.

Our project, titled "GreenTech Innovations," aims to develop sustainable energy solutions for urban areas. The primary goal is to reduce carbon emissions by 25% over the next five years by integrating solar panels and wind turbines in city infrastructures.

To clarify the funding aspect, our budget is approximately $1 million. This will cover research, development, and initial deployment. We plan to seek partnerships with local government bodies and private companies to ensure financial sustainability.

Regarding the timeline, the project is expected to commence in January 2024, with a pilot phase running for 18 months. During this pilot, data will be collected to refine our approach and ensure efficacy.

Lastly, our team comprises experts in renewable energy, urban planning, and environmental policy. Together, we are confident in our ability to achieve the project objectives.

I hope this clarifies our proposal, and I welcome any further questions. Thank you.
