

Hello everyone,

Today, I'd like to address an important topic: email confidentiality. It's crucial to protect sensitive information and ensure that our communications remain secure. Here's a simple framework to help us all maintain email privacy:

1. Clear Subject Lines: Always use a subject line that does not reveal confidential details.
2. Limit Recipients: Only include necessary contacts in the email to minimize disclosure.
3. Use Encryption: Utilize encryption tools for emails containing sensitive information.
4. Attachment Safety: Ensure attachments do not contain sensitive data or use password protection.
5. Verify Before Sending: Double-check recipient addresses to prevent accidental sends to unauthorized parties.

By following these simple guidelines, we can safeguard our communications and uphold confidentiality standards. Thank you for your attention and commitment to maintaining email security.

Feel free to reach out if you have questions or need further clarification.
