

Certainly! Here's a simple example of a clarification speech for an interview:

---

Hello [Interviewer's Name],

Thank you for the opportunity to discuss my application today. I wanted to take a moment to clarify a few points about my experience and skills that I believe are particularly relevant to the position.

First, regarding my previous role at [Company Name], I led a team of five in the development of a successful project that increased our efficiency by 30%. This experience honed my leadership skills and taught me how to effectively manage resources.

Second, I have advanced proficiency in [Skill or Software], as demonstrated by the recent certification I completed. This knowledge will allow me to contribute immediately to your team's ongoing projects.

Finally, I'd like to emphasize my commitment to continuous learning, as evidenced by my ongoing attendance at industry workshops and seminars, ensuring I stay up-to-date with the latest trends and innovations.

Please let me know if there's any other aspect of my background you'd like me to elaborate on. I am eager to bring my skills to [Company Name] and contribute positively to your team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Best regards,

[Your Name]