

Ladies and gentlemen,

As I stand before you today, I am overwhelmed with gratitude and a touch of sadness as I say goodbye. Reflecting on my time here, I am filled with appreciation for the moments we've shared, the lessons I've learned, and the friendships I've made.

Each one of you has contributed to my journey in ways big and small, and for that, I am eternally thankful. Your support, kindness, and encouragement have been a guiding light, and I will carry these memories with me always.

Though we're parting ways, please know that you have left an indelible mark on my heart. Our paths may diverge, but the bond we share will remain strong. I look forward to staying in touch and cherishing the connections we've built.

Thank you, from the bottom of my heart, for being such a significant part of my life. Until we meet again, I wish you all happiness, success, and fulfillment in everything you do.

Goodbye, and thank you for everything.
