

My love, I just want to take a moment to express how deeply committed I am to us. Every day with you brings me so much joy, and I've never felt so connected to someone before. I promise to stand by you, support you, and grow with you in every way possible. I cherish the love we share and look forward to creating countless memories together. With all my heart, I am yours, now and always.